Summary

Phase 2 → A sequence of trials

Phase 2 Milestones

PERSONA WORKSHOP · S7

Three AI personas as a fictional advisory panel — a method to sharpen your concept and mediate in team dynamics

UX TRIAL #1 · S8

Early ideation with an audience, Miro boards, conceptual walkthrough. No prototype required — testing the concept.

EXPERIENCE SPECIFICATION · S9

Pinned down what the system does, for whom, and what you're technically working with.

MID-PROCESS REVIEW · S10

"Silent" peer observation with observer + visitor cards, then pattern analysis.

UX TRIAL #2 · S11

Interactive prototyping through two audience waves.

CRP + PORTFOLIO · S12

Critical Response Process and peer review of portfolio drafts.

Submission

Documenting your Phase 2 work

Due Tonight · 23:59

TEAM DELIVERABLES

1. UX Trial Reports

min. 3 reports (design question · observation · decision).
Should show progression, not just isolated events.

2. Installation Concept — concept as shaped by three rounds of testing → the plan of what to build

3. Technical Decisions — tools + key interaction decisions + known constraints

INDIVIDUAL

1. AI & Me (Phase 2) — your reflection about AI use (or intentional & reflected non-use) within Phase 2

2. Buddycheck 2 — do it before you leave today

Installation Concept

Not a repeat of Phase 1 — the concept as shaped by three rounds of testing.

- Working title + updated premise
- Audience scenario: what a visitor does, step by step
- Spatial plan or sketch
- How it evolved from Phase 1

Your Phase 1 statement is the anchor. The trials translated that into a plan.

Technical Decisions

The reasoning behind how the work will be created in Phase 3 — not a reproduction manual.

- Technology track + tools, and why
- One key interaction decision: what you considered, chose, and why
- Known risks or unresolved constraints

If a technical constraint forced a concept change, say so.

Keep Going

Phase 2 is graded tonight — but the work continues in Phase 3

Phase 2 Is “Just” a Checkpoint

TONIGHT IS A GRADED CHECKPOINT

Phase 2 is only part of the whole journey:

- an iteration towards a compelling interactive installation
- a portfolio that audiences want to read.

... BUT TESTING CONTINUES ALSO IN PHASE 3

Keep testing and documenting further improvements of your art installation also in Phase 3.

There are no guides testing moments anymore; but plenty of people working next to each other!

Phase 3 Is Building and More Testing

BUILD THE INSTALLATION

Build in the DesignLab, but keep iterating right up to the exhibition. Building isn't the end of testing.

Testing in this course is about supporting (fast) decision making and checking assumptions.

YOU'LL NEED EACH OTHER ... IN THE SAME SPACE

Even when you don't need the DesignLab's tools, you need its people: peers to test on, TAs and Teachers to find solutions with.

Bring up problems early and collaboratively.

Test it with people. Fix it with people.

A Quick Look at Phase 3

WEEK 9

Jacco talks about the intersection of art + science!

Build and integrate in a dedicated design space. Discuss requirements.

WEEK 10

Daily brief group progress check-ins.

Space planning review, equipment lock-in, and building your work.

WEEK 11

Final touches, then rehearse your exhibition performance.

Public exhibition, and complete the portfolio.
